

SOLDIERS TRY TO STOP RAID

Peace Officers of El Paso, Taking in Games at Lynchville, Assaulted.

Constable Lon Garner, deputy sheriff E. W. Mabius, Ivan Fenley, John Boone and three provost guards in charge of corporal R. C. Partridge, privates Joseph Jankat and Clyde Olin, and George Smith, who were driving an automobile belonging to sheriff E. W. Mabius, had a narrow escape from possible injury Wednesday night about 9 o'clock when a crowd of about 500 soldiers gathered around the El Paso officers at Lynchville, Ft. Bliss, and tried to prevent them from raiding alleged dice games and arresting players at that place.

The authorities had placed eight men under arrest, charged with gambling and running a game, when the soldiers, it is reported, tried to interfere and started to stone the El Pasoans and close in on them.

Garner told of "scram." Constable Garner said Thursday morning, "I was taking of the trouble credit for the way in which they came to the front and the coolness with which they took the trouble and helped us to handle the situation. I am afraid that we would not have come out as well as we did if they had not done just what was done. After we found that we were in for a lot of trouble, the three soldiers started to shoot over the heads of the crowd. This drove them back and we were able to get our prisoners to the waiting machine and on our way to El Paso. After we were on our way someone in the crowd fired four shots at us. Two of them struck the car Smith was driving, one making a hole in the back of the body and the other going through the curtain in the rear."

Five Men $12.50 Each. Justice of the peace A. J. Hall held a special session for the men arrested, charged with gambling, and fined them $1 and costs each, amounting to a total of $12.50 each. The men fined gave the names of G. Miller, B. McNelly, A. Turler, E. Mason, G. T. McNelly, A. Mallen, W. Night and G. Ingram. They were all members of the 20th infantry, it was reported.

Caranza Fears Mexico May Be Drawn Into War

BAKERS BRING SESSION TO END

Visiting Financiers Spend Thursday Afternoon at Barbecue at Ysleta.

after the struggle. The war has not ruined Europe industrially, he asserted. On the contrary, it has taught the various nations lessons of organization that they must learn in order to survive in the competition that will follow the coming of peace. A round of applause greeted his talk.

Oklahomans Send Greeting.

Greetings of the Oklahoma Bankers association were delivered to the convention by A. G. Martin, of Oklahoma City.

Resolution was then introduced and passed placing the bankers on record as being willing to assist in the solution of the Liberty loan bonds without compensation.

To Retain Group Meetings. Group meetings of the several districts in the Liberty loan drive will not be abolished. This was decided upon after a lively argument among the members.

Mexican consul Eduardo Soriano Bravo was then introduced by Norman M. Walker. "We do not want you," said the Mexican official, "to judge Mexico by what you saw in Juarez yesterday. We would like for you to go deeper into the country and see the great possibilities. I am glad to have been able to show you gentlemen some of the things that you enjoyed your visit to the neighboring town." Just before the session ended the speaker of appreciation of the courtesy of Mr. Bravo and Mr. Walker was adopted by unanimous vote.

Endorse Office Men's Work. Reports of the secretary and treasurer and various committee chairmen were then introduced and adopted without discussion. The treasurer's report showed that the total disbursements for the year were $25,412.95. The balance on hand was $7,289.22. The work of C. E. McCuhen, as treasurer, was endorsed; as was the labor of Wm. Philpott, Jr., secretary of the association. The secretary's accounting showed that 185 members have been gained during the period, bringing the membership up to approximately 1500.

Special Trains Leave Tonight.

James G. McNary then announced that the Texas & Pacific special will leave El Paso at 8 o'clock tonight. The southern Pacific special, which brought the bankers from south Texas, will depart at midnight. Delegates to attend the banquet at Ysleta this afternoon can catch the Texas & Pacific train at Ysleta. It is only a five minute ride from the scene of the barbecue to the Ysleta station and plenty of automobiles will be on hand to carry those who decide to take the train there. Those who wish to catch the special there are warned to check their baggage at the Del Norte beforehand.

Reports Held Over. Announcement was made that the report of committees on wages, resolutions, bylaws, education and agriculture would not be read, on account of the length of time it would consume. These reports were embodied in a printed pamphlet distributed among the delegates and were approved without comment.

A resolution urging closer cooperation of country banks in floating the Liberty loan was the next order of business. It was adopted without a dissenting vote.

Resolutions Adopted. The following resolutions were also adopted:

To make bank holidays a crime against the federal government, as well as state administrations.

Approval of the Thrift and Economy campaign to be instituted by the extension department of the University of Texas. This resolution also carried an appropriation of $1000 to help defray the expenses of this campaign.

To urge all state and national banks to assist in making the Liberty loan possible.

To thank Gen. George Bell, Jr., for his courtesy in arranging the artillery drill for the visitors Wednesday morning.

To express appreciation to John Clausen, of the Crocker National Bank, of San Francisco, and Col. Geo. E. Allen, educational director of the American Bankers' association, of New York city, for coming here to address the convention.

Newspapers Are Thanked. To thank the El Paso newspapers "for the liberal space and intelligent reporting given to the convention."

To set aside part of the New Mexico public domain for further experimentation in the Karakul sheep industry.

To thank Mexican consul Soriano Bravo and Norman M. Walker for their courtesy in arranging the trip to Juarez for the delegates.

The election of officers followed and then adjournment was taken.

Some To Cloudercroft Friday. Most of the visitors will leave El Paso on the two special trains which will depart tonight. A number, however, have decided to remain here and go to Cloudercroft on the special train to be run by the E. P. & S. W. Friday. The Cloudercroft train will leave El Paso at 7:30 a. m. It will make connections that will enable the travelers to be back here by 7:30 Friday evening. Those who wish may remain until Monday night.

Barbecue at Ysleta. The final feature of the entertainment program was a barbecue at West Ysleta this afternoon. Special cars and automobiles took the visitors from the hotel at 4 p. m. Three hundred bankers and their wives attended.
